

This partner report from RBC Global Asset Management explores prominent themes like climate change, and how it's impacting investors worldwide as ESG investing becomes more prevalent.

Global Asset Management

Making connections: Biodiversity and climate change

Understanding the connection between biodiversity and climate change mitigation is important for businesses to succeed. Learn why biodiversity matters, and how it impacts climate change, companies and profits.

Learn more

Net-zero greenhouse gas emissions: Changing investor attitudes

Learn how asset managers can address climate change through proxy voting on climate-related shareholder proposals.

Learn more

Climate change: Active stewardship vs. divestment

In this article, we will explain what active stewardship is and how it can be used to address concerns about climate change. We will also discuss the role of active stewardship versus divestment in achieving climate change objectives

Learn more

An investor's guide to net-zero emissions

This paper will explore why these commitments are being made now and how RBC Global Asset Management (RBC GAM) considers climate targets and other factors as part of the investment process.

Learn more

The future of emerging markets: Green Infrastructure

This report summarizes the key factors which we believe will drive the Green Infrastructure theme and analyzes the best ways to benefit from the theme.

Learn more

Q&A: Pandemic impact on ESG

Our investment teams across North America, Europe and Asia share their perspectives on the ESG opportunities and challenges facing investors today.

Learn more